

MID-ATLANTIC - RUSSIA BUSINESS COUNCIL

MARBC

- Our 20-Year History
- Our Core Activities
- Technology, Entrepreneurial, Educational, and Regional Cooperation
- Our Priority Industries

Contents

- Our Mission
- Who We Are
- What We Do – Key Activities
 - Russian-American Innovation Technology Week (RANIT)
 - Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation (RAVC)
- Areas of Cooperation
 - Technology
 - Entrepreneurial
 - Educational
 - Regional
 - International
- Our Key Industries
 - Life Sciences
 - Alternative Energy
 - Information Technology
 - Traditional Industries

Our Mission

- MARBC's mission is to enhance the position of U.S. Mid-Atlantic-based companies in Russia and the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) while attracting Russian businesses to the Mid-Atlantic region.
- MARBC works to foster business relations between Russia and the CIS and the U.S. Mid-Atlantic region and to cultivate contacts and cooperation among political, economic, cultural and educational interests.

Who We Are

MID-ATLANTIC - RUSSIA BUSINESS COUNCIL

Pennsylvania-Russia Business Council

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council is a major non-profit organization in the Mid-Atlantic Region that provides information and services related to Russia and the CIS.
- It was established in September 1994 as the Pennsylvania - Russia Business Council, and began core activities in 1995.
- MARBC started in Pennsylvania, and expanded to include Delaware, New Jersey, and Maryland, as well as New York City and Washington, DC. Our core activity remains in the Mid-Atlantic states, we support some events in other parts of the U.S. as well.
- MARBC is headquartered in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania with offices in Rockville, Maryland, and Moscow, Russia.

What We Do

- MARBC provides U.S. companies with the necessary tools and connections to succeed in this rapidly expanding market, and helps Russian companies to gain access to and establish a presence in the American market.
- Since 1997, we have been actively involved in developing cooperation with Russian regions.
- We have developed partnerships with more than thirty American and twenty Russian leading regional Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations.
- MARBC annually organizes over 25 Russian-American trade events, seminars, and delegations from Russia across the U.S., and around 10 trade events in Russia. Despite many complications and developments over the years, we continue to build connections and foster cooperation between people in Russia and the United States.
- MARBC's biggest recurring events are the annual Russian-American Innovation Technology Week (RANIT), and the Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation (RAVC).

History of Russian-American Cooperation

- Cooperation between the U.S. and Russia has a long and distinguished history, particularly in the Mid-Atlantic region. Historically, the Mid-Atlantic states were some of the first to develop ties with Russia, and have played a leading role in Russian-American relations ever since.
- In 1809, the first Russian ambassador to the United States, Andrey Dashkov, arrived in Philadelphia.
 - In 2009, the MARBC helped to organize a commemoration ceremony in Philadelphia City Hall to celebrate the 200th anniversary of Dashkov's arrival.
- Russian-American science and technology cooperation efforts began when Benjamin Franklin invited the Russian princess Ekaterina Dashkova to be the first woman to join the American Philosophical Society. Dashkova later made Franklin the first American member of the Russian Academy of Science.
 - In 2006, on the 300th anniversary of Franklin's birthday, the MARBC helped support "The Princess and the Patriot," an exhibition focusing on Franklin and Dashkova. The MARBC brought various delegations from Russia and participants in leading MARBC events to the exhibition, and included the exhibition in a number of events and conferences.

Commemoration of First Russian Ambassador to the U.S.

- In August 2009, on the bicentennial anniversary of the arrival in 1809 of Andrei Yakovlevich Dashkov, the first Russian ambassador to the United States, the MARBC in cooperation with the City of Philadelphia held a commemoration ceremony at Philadelphia City Hall to discuss the future of Russian-American relations.
- The ceremony included an address by Mayor Michael Nutter, who welcomed Russian officials, Mid-Atlantic state and city officials, MARBC members, supporting organizations, and other members of the business community.
- The current Russian Ambassador to the U.S., Sergey I. Kislyak, presented a keynote speech, and the ceremony was accompanied by a conference on the history and importance of Russian-American relations in business, technology, and diplomacy.
- After the ceremony, Ambassador Kislyak participated in a meeting with the President of the Chemical Heritage Foundation, where Mendeleev's writings during his trip to Philadelphia were presented.

Seminars

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council has presented various seminars, beginning in April 2005 with the Russian Business Seminar held at Penn State’s Great Valley campus.
- After a major economic crisis in Russia in 1998, the MARBC created “The Changing Face of Russia,” a seminar series that has been held in response to major crises and new developments in the Russian business environment ever since. The seminar series brings speakers from the U.S. and Russia to help the Mid-Atlantic business community learn how to dynamically adjust to new developments and conditions for conducting business in Russia.
- The MARBC and the U.S. Department of State jointly organized a fourteen-seminar series from 2001 to 2003, entitled "Russian Science and Technology Opportunities for U.S. Businesses." Since 2003, the MARBC has organized these seminars both as standalone events and as part of other leading MARBC events.
- Several seminars have also been organized by the MARBC on the topic of “Business Opportunities in Russia.”

Delegations

- MARBC has been instrumental in bringing a number of high-profile delegations from Russia to the U.S., and vice versa.
- Russian delegations attend key MARBC events such as Russian-American Innovation Technology Week (RANIT) and the Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation (RAVC), as well as various leading industry events including CeBIT America and the C3 Expo, the Mid-Atlantic Venture Conference, the BIO International Conventions, AdvaMed, and many others.

Annual Pennsylvania-Russia Business Opportunity Symposium

- The Pennsylvania-Russia Business Opportunity Symposium was a key annual event organized by the MARBC since 1995.
- The Symposium was the MARBC's most diverse business event. It featured delegates from a wide range of industries, highlighting the importance of cross-industry collaboration in the fast-paced, changing business environments of Russia and the Mid-Atlantic. The Symposium included:
 - Discussion of changing legal and regulatory environment in Russia.
 - Focus groups discussing economic hot topics
 - Panel presentations highlighting opportunities in specific industry sectors.
 - Discussion of innovative technologies and projects

Cooperation with Eurasian Nations

- It has always been part of the Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council’s mission to work closely beyond Russia with other Eurasian countries.
- From organizing the Ambassadors Business Forum on “Russia and the Newly Independent States for the New Millenium” in 1999, to roundtable with the head of Belarus Hi-Tech Park in 2014, the MARBC has supported cooperation with the nations of Eurasia, and delegations from various Eurasian countries regularly attend key MARBC events.
- In 2014, the Mid-Atlantic – Eurasia Business Council (MAEBC) was created to reflect the Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council’s work with former Soviet Union countries.

MARBC
MAEBC

Mid-Atlantic - Russia Business Council
Mid-Atlantic - Eurasia Business Council

RANIT

Russian-American Innovation Technology Week

- RANIT is designed to bring together the American and Russian technology communities, including established corporations as well as scientists, entrepreneurs and venture capitalists.
- RANIT is supported by leading regional businesses and governmental organizations, including the administrations of the City of Philadelphia, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the States of New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, as well as Mid-Atlantic regional organizations focusing on international business and technology development.
- RANIT has been established and organized by MARBC since 2003. It is now held either once or twice a year and includes a welcoming or closing ceremony in the Mayor's Reception Room at Philadelphia City Hall, the Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference, the Russian-American Innovation Technology, University Research & Commercialization Roundtables, and a great number of regional technology events.

technology

Communication®

loading 83%

System Analysis

RANIT

Russian-American Innovation Technology Week

➤ Russian delegations representing the best Russian technology companies take part in the various regional technology events of the RANIT:

- Meetings with state officials
- Coaching sessions with members of venture capital funds
- Visits to the International Incubator at the Science Center
- Roundtable discussions with members of biotechnology associations in the Mid-Atlantic region

Communication®

loading 83%

System Analysis

~~ Celebrating 20 years of Russian-American Business, Technology, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship Cooperation ~~

RANIT

Russian-American Innovation Technology Week

- The 5th RANIT included events held in celebration of the 300-year anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin – the 1st American member of the Russian Academy of Sciences
- The 7th RANIT, held in mid-November 2007, commemorated the 200th anniversary of the beginning of Russian-American diplomatic relations
- At the 17th RANIT, MARBC organized a roundtable discussion on innovative development with the management of Comcast, one of the largest telecommunication companies in America.
- The 18th RANIT, held in Fall 2013, featured a presentation from Optiflame, the first Russian company to operate out of the University City Science Center, the biggest and oldest urban technology park in the United States , which celebrated its 50th anniversary that year.

Communication[®]

System Analysis

loading 83%

Upcoming RANIT

Russian-American Innovation Technology Week

- The 20th RANIT will take place from June 11-19, 2015 in Philadelphia and Washington, DC. It will focus on biotechnology, the pharmaceutical industry, medical equipment, life sciences, alternative energy, nanotechnology, the chemical industry, information technology, technology in education, and entrepreneurship. The 20th RANIT will include the Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference, and Russian participation in the 2015 Bio International Convention in Philadelphia.

Communication[®]

loading 83%

System Analysis

~~ Celebrating 20 years of Russian-American Business, Technology, Innovation, and Entrepreneurship Cooperation ~~

RANIT and RANIT-BIO

- In the past, the Spring edition of the semi-annual Russian-American Innovation Technology Week has focused primarily, though not exclusively, on biotechnology and life sciences.
- Major events of RANIT and RANIT-BIO included:
 - A welcoming ceremony in the Mayor's Reception Room at Philadelphia City Hall
 - The annual Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference
 - Seminars with members of biotechnology associations in the Mid-Atlantic region and venture capital funds specializing in biotechnology
 - A visit to the International Incubator at the Science Center.
 - Russian participation in the Bio International Convention in Philadelphia.
- MARBC organized Russian panels, Russian mini-pavilions, and the participation of the Russian delegation in various events, in the context of both RANIT and RANIT-BIO.

Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference

- The Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference is held as part of the Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council’s Russian-American Innovation Technology Week (RANIT), and was formerly held as part of RANIT-BIO. The conference is co-organized by MARBC and the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhARMA).
- This full-day conference explores the opportunities to build mutually-supportive partnerships between the U.S. and Russia in the sphere of innovative pharmaceutical and life science development.

Communi

loading 83%

Pictures from RANIT-BIO

RAVC

Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation

- RAVC is an annual series of events focusing primarily on entrepreneurship, investment and innovative technologies.
- Core events at RAVC include the annual Russian – American Technology Entrepreneurship Conference, organized by the MARBC, a roundtable at the University City Science Center, and the Mid-Atlantic Venture Conference (IMPACT), a venture capital event which the MARBC has supported for many years.

Upcoming RAVC MID-ATLANTIC - RUSSIA BUSINESS COUNCIL

Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation

- RAVC 2014 will take place in Philadelphia from October 27 - 29, 2014. This year's RAVC events will include the Russian – American Technology Entrepreneurship Conference at the University City Science Center on October 28, IMPACT 2014 on October 28-29, and a roundtable at the International Incubator at the Science Center on October 28, featuring a presentation from Optiflame, the first Russian company to take up residence at the Science Center, and presentations of other company-residents.

Technology Cooperation

- SMART TechTrends
- International Forum - “High Technology of the 21st Century”

Technology Cooperation - Overview

- From the beginning, technology cooperation has been an area of continually growing interest for the Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council. Since the creation of the annual Russian-American Innovation Technology Week (RANIT) in 2003, technology has become the most important sector for the MARBC.
- The MARBC has organized and supported numerous technology-focused events in the U.S. and Russia, including RANIT, TechTrends, the International Forum on High Technology of the 21st Century, the Moscow International Salon of Innovations and Investments, and many others.

SMART TechTrends

- For a number of years, the MARBC secured Russian presentations, and organized a Russian panel, delegation, and mini-pavilion, at SMART TechTrends, a premier science, technology, and R&D conference and expo promoting interconnection among the Mid-Atlantic States.
- The conference brought together players from business, academia, and government to discuss developments in biotechnology, nanotechnology, energy & the environment, industrial technology, technology transfer and venture capital, and information technology and transport.

International Forum – “High Technology of the 21st Century”

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council supports “High Technology of the 21st Century,” an international exhibition organized jointly by the MARBC and Moscow Entrepreneurs Associations. This event has been held in Russia since 1999, and presents technological achievements in the fields of space, radio electronics and communications, information, medicine and biotechnology, chemistry, and related sectors.

- The program of the Forum includes seminars, round tables, an innovation competition, an international exhibition, and an international conference. The MARBC has hosted and organized the American panel at the Forum.

Entrepreneurial Cooperation

- RAVC and IMPACT
- University City Science Center
- Open Innovations Forum and Moscow Venture Forum

Entrepreneurial Cooperation - Overview

- Entrepreneurship has always been at the heart of the Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council's approach to building cooperation between the U.S. and Russia.
- At the center of the MARBC's mission to foster entrepreneurship is the annual Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation (RAVC).
- The key event of RAVC is the Russian-American Technology Entrepreneurship Conference.
- RAVC also includes a roundtable at the University City Science Center, the biggest and oldest urban technology park in the U.S.
- The winners of the annual innovation competition organized by the MARBC and the Moscow Entrepreneurs Association present their work at RAVC.

RAVC and IMPACT

- As an important part of the Days of Russian-American Innovation Entrepreneurship Cooperation (RAVC), MARBC organizes Russian participation in IMPACT (originally Mid-Atlantic Venture Conference), one of the oldest venture capital events in the United States.
- IMPACT provides participants with a unique opportunity to access private investors and the largest regional venture funds. Participants at IMPACT share their knowledge of the seed and venture capital industry, and discuss the best strategies and tools for creating strategic investment programs and institutions.
- IMPACT showcases the best young and developing companies in the fields of technology, life sciences, and alternative energy, and provides these companies with incomparable exposure to top venture capitalists and private equity investors.

University City Science Center

- The year 2013 marked the 50th anniversary of the University City Science Center in Philadelphia, the biggest and oldest urban technology park in the United States.
- The Science Center provides lab and office space for start-up, growing and established companies.
- The MARBC's partnership with the Science Center has lasted for 15 years, and has grown to include support of Optiflame, an innovative Russian wind energy company, and the first Russian company to take up residence at the Science Center.
- The Science Center has played a key role as host for a number of MARBC events.

Open Innovations Forum

- The Open Innovations Forum is a leading forum for global economic development, dedicated to emerging technologies and furthering innovation prospects and collaboration worldwide. MARBC delegates participate in the forum, which is held annually in Moscow, Russia.

Moscow Venture Forum

- The MARBC has also organized seminars and panel discussions at the Moscow Venture Forum, an annual event bringing together all participants in the investment process, including business developers, angel investors, and other investors.

Educational Cooperation

- Events at the Wharton School of Business
- Cooperation with Temple University
- Moscow International Salon of Innovations and Investments

Educational Cooperation - Overview

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council works to promote Russian-American educational cooperation by working with notable educational institutions in both countries.
- Education has always been a focus of the Mid-Atlantic region, and the MARBC seeks to connect with the region's wealth of rising talent. The MARBC has held and supported events in conjunction with the region's leading institutions including the University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, and Drexel University.
- The MARBC has hosted educational delegations from Russian institutions, including most recently the Moscow State University of Economics, Statistics, and Informatics, and Altai State University.
- For a few years, the MARBC organized a panel on business, education, and language at the annual conference of the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages.
- Additionally, the MARBC organizes various educational cooperation panels and programs as part of its two key events, RANIT and RAVC.

Cooperation with the Wharton School of Business

- Since 1999, the MARBC has partnered with the Wharton Expert Network.
- In 2003 and 2004, the MARBC presented at the Wharton European Business Conference.
- In 2009, the MARBC organized events at the Wharton School of Business in conjunction with the Wharton School's Russia Student Society.
 - A panel on “The Future of U.S.-Russia Business Ties: Opportunities or Constraints” featured representatives from companies conducting business in both the U.S. and Russia, including several Wharton School graduates.
 - A cultural event on “Russian Culture and Society Abroad” included literary discussions, poetry recitations, and songs.

Cooperation with Temple University

- The MARBC has worked with Temple University on a number of events and programs over the years, including cooperating to organize the Russian-American Technology Entrepreneurship Conference at Philadelphia ITEC in 2005, and the “Business in Russia” film screening of the documentary “CNBC in Russia” in 2006.
- The MARBC also maintains good ties with Temple University’s Russian Studies program, and the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute at Temple University’s Fox School of Business.

Moscow International Salon of Innovations and Investments

➤ Organized by the Ministry of Education and Science of the Russian Federation, the Moscow International Salon of Innovations and Investments is geared towards assisting the inventors, developers and manufacturers of hi-tech products in developing Russian and foreign markets of technologies and science intensive products.

➤ The MARBC has presented at multiple annual editions of the Salon, and organized the American panel.

➤ Representatives of Federal, regional and municipal authorities, as well as representatives of the World Organization for Protection of Intellectual Property, and numerous delegations from the former Soviet Republics and foreign countries, take part in the work of the Salon.

Regional Cooperation

- Cooperation with Mid-Atlantic and Russian Chambers of Commerce
- Commemoration of First Russian Ambassador to the U.S.
- Visit by the Russian Mayors' Delegation to New York and Philadelphia

Cooperation with Mid-Atlantic Chambers of Commerce

- Since 1994, the MARBC has emphasized the development of ties with local Chambers of Commerce in Pennsylvania, such as the Allentown Chamber of Commerce (currently Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce), Main Line Chamber of Commerce, North Penn Chamber of Commerce, and others.
- The MARBC has also formed ties with regional, state and federal chambers, from the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, and Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.
- In 2014, the MARBC assisted members of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce during their 3rd annual Chamber travel tour to Moscow and St. Petersburg.

Cooperation with Chambers of Commerce in Russia

- The MARBC has formed partnerships with nearly 20 Russian regional Chambers of Commerce and similar business associations, starting in 1994 with the Moscow Entrepreneurs' Association, and the Moscow Region Chamber of Commerce in 1997.
- The MARBC has also formed ties with the Russian State Chamber of Commerce, and the American Chamber of Commerce in Russia (AmCham). MARBC delegations attend and present at events organized by these chambers, including the annual International Congress "Open Russia: Partnership for Modernization," and most recently the 2014 International Urban Business Forum on Innovations in Housing, Public Utilities, and Urban Development, held at the Russian State Chamber of Commerce, and the Eurasian Economic Union Seminar held at the American Chamber of Commerce in Russia.

Visits by Russian Mayors' Delegations to New York and Philadelphia

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council hosted a delegation in conjunction with the Twin City International Association on July 11-12, 2006 consisting of 32 mayors and heads of administration representing cities and regions from across Russia in New York and Philadelphia.
- The MARBC continued to host delegations of Russian mayors and local government officials who visited the Mid-Atlantic region in subsequent years.

Multi-Country Cooperation

- Cooperation with International Chambers of Commerce
- Summer International Business Networking Reception
- World Trade Week in New York

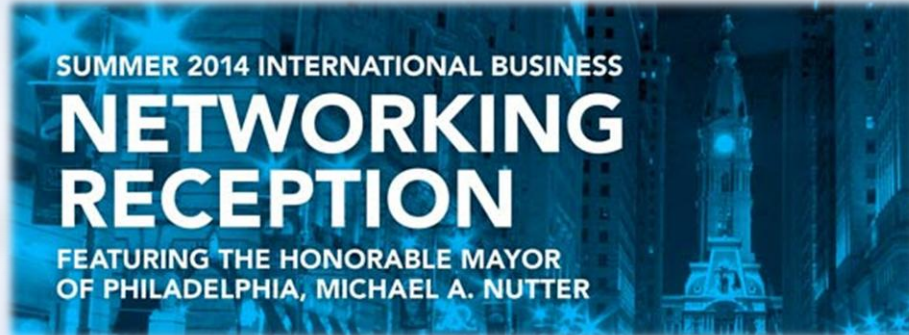

Cooperation with International Chambers of Commerce

- The Mid-Atlantic – Russia Business Council frequently collaborates with other international chambers based in Philadelphia, including the British American Business Council, Chilean & American Chamber of Commerce, French American Chamber of Commerce, German American Chamber of Commerce, Irish American Business Chamber & Network, Italy America Chamber of Commerce, Japan America Society, Mid-Atlantic-Russia Business Council, Norwegian-American Chamber of Commerce, Philadelphia-Israel Chamber of Commerce, and Swedish-American Chamber of Commerce.
- The MARBC has partnered with international chambers in New York for many years in support of the annual World Trade Week New York.
- This collaboration also extends to chambers based in Russia. In recent years, the MARBC, jointly with the Russia-Israel Business Council, has hosted a panel on Russian-Israel-American Innovation Technology as part of RANIT and RAVC.

Summer 2014 International Business Networking Reception

- The Mid-Atlantic - Russia Business Council participated as a Presenting Partner for the fourth annual edition of the Summer 2014 International Business Networking Reception, featuring Michael Nutter, the Mayor of Philadelphia.
- Nearly 300 business peers gathered at this sold-out event to discuss Mayor Nutter's plans and efforts to keep Philadelphia as a top US destination for foreign direct investment and commercial trade.

World Trade Week New York

- For a number of years, the Mid-Atlantic - Russia Business Council has been a partner for World Trade Week New York.
- This important week brings together specialists in international trade from across the country to facilitate and promote trade in the U.S economy. It also represents the annual culmination of the MARBC's cooperation with international chambers and other organizations in the New York City area.
- World Trade Week New York includes educational seminars and global business networking events that seek to ensure continued emphasis on international trade, and also provided access to new ideas and knowledge to help promote the success of small businesses in the global economy.

Our Industries:

Life Sciences

- U.S. – Russia Biotechnology Cooperation
- Bio International Convention and Regional Bio Conventions
- AdvaMED
- International Biotechnology Conference in Moscow City Hall

U.S. – Russia Biotechnology Cooperation

- Biotechnology cooperation between Russia and the Mid-Atlantic states is particularly attractive due to an increased emphasis on life sciences development in both countries in recent years.
- The Russian government has moved to emphasize biotechnology development with the creation of a “National Program for the Development of Biotechnology in the Russian Federation until 2020.”
- Governments in the Mid-Atlantic region have enacted favorable policies that have further enhanced the region’s standing as a leader in the field of biotechnology.
- It is within this context that MARBC has made Russian-American scientific and technical cooperation in biotechnology one of its top priorities.

Bio International Convention and Regional Bio Conventions

- Since 2005, the Mid-Atlantic - Russia Business Council organized the participation of a Russian delegation, hosted a Russian national seminar, and organized the Russian exhibit at the Bio International Convention.
- The MARBC also organized the participation of a Russian delegation in the Mid-Atlantic Bio conference, and organized a Russian national seminar which offered companies the opportunity to attend panel discussions on hot topics in the life science industry.
- The MARBC also organizes Russian participation in a variety of state-level bio conventions, organized by Pennsylvania Bio, Bio New Jersey, and Delaware Bio.
- At the conference, the MARBC organized a Russian exhibition, and presentations about the latest biotechnology developments in Russia.

AdvaMed Conference

- MARBC organizes the annual participation of Russian business delegations at AdvaMed, the leading medical technology conference in the U.S.
- MARBC is a supporting partner organization of the AdvaMed conference.
- The AdvaMed conferences have a history of international participation, with senior level executives representing more than 30 different countries regularly in attendance.

International Congress on Biotechnology at Moscow City Hall

- The Moscow International Congress on Biotechnology, held in Moscow City Hall, is an annual international biotechnologies festival which highlights the entire spectrum of biotechnological products including pharmaceuticals, agricultural technologies, veterinary medicine, geology and industrial technologies, and biological products for the protection and recovery of the environment.
- The International Congress on Biotechnology is the oldest such biotechnology event in Russia.
- The MARBC hosts Russian-American symposiums and other similar programs at the Congress.

International Adam Smith Institute Forum

- The MARBC was proud to support Adam Smith Conferences' international forum on Innovative Drug Research & Development in Russia, a program held in Moscow that was designed to be a unique industry platform for discussion, debate and problem-solving for all industry players.
- This forum presented a unique and excellent international platform for analysis and debate of the latest trends, legislative initiatives and priorities of the regulators as well as a review of the key strategies pursued by the leaders and pioneers of the innovative drug sector in Russia.
- The MARBC was instrumental in bringing key American speakers to this event.

Our Industries:

Alternative Energy

- Renewable Energy Finance Forum (REFF)
- Renewable Energy Technology Conference and Exhibition (RETECH)

Renewable Energy Finance Forum - Wall Street.

- MARBC organizes American and Russian participation in REFF Wall Street, the leading renewable energy financing event in the United States, organized jointly by Euromoney and the American Council on Renewable Energy (ACORE).
- With clean energy markets reaching a tipping point while the industry continues to deal with uncertainty, REFF Wall Street and other renewable energy events represent an increasingly important part of MARBC's mission.

Renewable Energy Technology Conference and Exhibition (RETECH)

- RETECH is the American Council on Renewable Energy's premier trade gathering of the all-renewable energy industry in the United States.
- The event offers a great opportunity to network with industry leaders and forward-thinking, focused organizations with a global view.
- MARBC is continuing its participation as a supporting organization of the RETECH conference, expanding the participation of the Russian delegation and developing Russian business exposition at the conference.

Our Industries:

Information Technology and Telecommunications

- CeBIT America and C3 Expo
- ITEC Conferences

CeBIT America and C3 Expo

CeBIT
america

- In 2003 and 2004, the Mid-Atlantic - Russia Business Council organized the Russian Program, which included a conference, a visit by a Russian delegation, and an exhibition, at CeBIT America, the premier information and communications technology event for the enterprise business marketplace. The Russian Conference provided opportunities for business and technology cooperation between the U.S. and Russian companies, and included a seminar, panel discussions, and a special Russian Pavilion.
- From 2005 to 2007, the MARBC continued to organize a Russian Program at the C3 Expo, the successor event to CeBIT America.

ITEC Conferences

- The ITEC Conferences are information technology conferences offering access to the latest breakthroughs in the information technologies field, as well as networking opportunities with some of the largest IT companies in the industry.
- The MARBC has participated in ITEC New York City Metro, ITEC Washington D.C. and ITEC Philadelphia by encouraging the participation of Russian companies in the exhibitions and by hosting panel discussions.

Our Industries:

Traditional Industries

- Agriculture
- Chemical
- Building and Construction

Traditional Industries

Agriculture, Chemical, Building and Construction

- Since 1999, the MARBC has hosted several delegations from the Russian agricultural, building, and construction industries.
- In 2004, a delegation of over 25 executives of leading Russian companies from sectors including petrochemical, aerospace, ship building, construction and agricultural equipment, agribusiness/food processing, lumber, and fiberglass manufacturing, convened in Philadelphia's City Hall.
- In 2006 and 2007, the MARBC once again hosted delegates from the Russian construction and agricultural industries.
- In 2007, the MARBC hosted a delegation from the Russian chemical industry, including state officials and business executives from major Russian chemical companies.

Contact Us

For further information about MARBC activities and events, please contact Val Kogan, President of the MARBC:

1760 Market Street, Suite 1100
Philadelphia, PA 19103

Phone: (484) 467-7444

Email: info@ma-rbc.org • val@ma-rbc.org

Visit Our Website at <http://www.ma-rbc.org>

