Dear Val:

We are proud of our life sciences community and work every day to make Pennsylvania the hub of the life sciences in the United States. The upcoming Eurasian/Russian-American Life Sciences Innovation Conference during the Eurasian/Russian-American Innovation Technology Week in Philadelphia will offer a valuable opportunity for new connections and an exchange of ideas.

We are pleased to support this event and are proud to showcase the Pennsylvania life sciences. Your leadership and strong effort to keep this important organization on an upward path is commendable. We urge all participants to seize the opportunities that this upcoming conference provides.

Best,

Christopher P. Molineaux
